Course Overview

During this specialist training course, which will be provided both through classroom and distance learning, the participants will be offered 30 hours of teachings (three hours, five days a week for two weeks) in the areas of company law, trust law, corporate governance, financial crime, and corporate social responsibility.

In particular, through analysis of legal theories, practical case studies, and group discussions with leading scholars and practitioners in the field, the participants in this programme will gain an in-depth and critical understanding of some of the major topics in the area of Corporate Law. This specialist training course will also allow the participants to develop the ability to analyse problems of technical complexity and to apply adequate principles to their solution.

The programme will not only focus on the English national legal frameworks but will also include comparative elements related to different jurisdictions as well as the analysis of aspects related to the international dimension of the matters covered.

Examining topical issues such as corporate veil, financial crime, corporate social responsibility and the creation and management of a trust, the course will also equip participants with the varied skill set necessary to oversee complex projects, such as corporate risk management and stakeholder management.

Certificate of Attendance

Participants will receive a Certificate of Attendance from Ascheri Academy and the University of East London subject to regular class attendance (i.e., the participant must be present for at least eight entire training course sessions).

The Italian Avvocati will receive n.15 credits recognised by the Consiglio Nazionale Forense.
